Except as noted below with respect to the 80% investment policies for the Quantitative U.S. Large Cap Growth Equity Portfolio and Quantitative U.S. Large Cap Value Equity Portfolio, the name changes to the Portfolios will result in no change to a Portfolio's investment objectives, strategies or risks, and the Portfolios will continue to be managed by the same portfolio management team following the name change on the Effective Date.

II. As of the Effective Date, the Quantitative U.S. Large Cap Growth Equity Portfolio's investment strategy will be changed. As described above, the Portfolio's name will be changed to "Disciplined U.S. Growth Equity Portfolio" to reflect its new investment strategy.

As of the Effective Date, the Summary Prospectuses and Statutory Prospectuses are hereby revised as follows, with the capitalization range of the Russell 1000[®] Index to be updated to reflect the Index's capitalization as of December 31, 2024:

Using quantitative analysis, under normal market circumstances, the Portfolio invests at least 80% of the value of its net assets (including borrowings for investment purposes) in equity securities, such as common stocks, of large cap companies tied economically to the U.S. that are "growth companies." Glenmede Investment Management LP (the "Advisor") considers a company to be tied economically to the U.S. if the company: 1) is organized under the laws of the U.S., 2) maintains its principal place of business in the U.S., 3) is traded principally in the U.S. or 4) at the time of purchase, is included in a U.S. equity index managed by S&P Global Ratings ("S&P") or FTSE Russell ("Russell"). Large cap companies include companies with market capitalizations, at the time of purchase, within the market capitalization range of any stock in the Russell 1000[®] Index. That capitalization range was $2.4 billion to $2.89 trillion as of April 30, 2024. The Advisor considers "growth companies" to be those companies that are included in the Russell 1000[®] Growth Index.
